FAMILIES OF "JÈRRI JADIS"

The previous five articles of a "GASPÉ OF YESTERDAY" series based on "JÈRRI JADIS" reflected only one of the eight chapters of George Le Feuvre's fascinating book on the Channel Islands published by the Don Balleine Trust of Jersey in 1973. That chapter recounted the author's visit to Gaspesian communities from Grand Etang on the North Coast to Restigouche in Bay Chaleur in search of the Channel Island heritage. However, as "JERRI JADIS" has seven other interesting chapters, this final article of the "GASPÉ OF YESTERDAY" series will attempt to select and record the many family names to be found in George Le Feuvre's book.

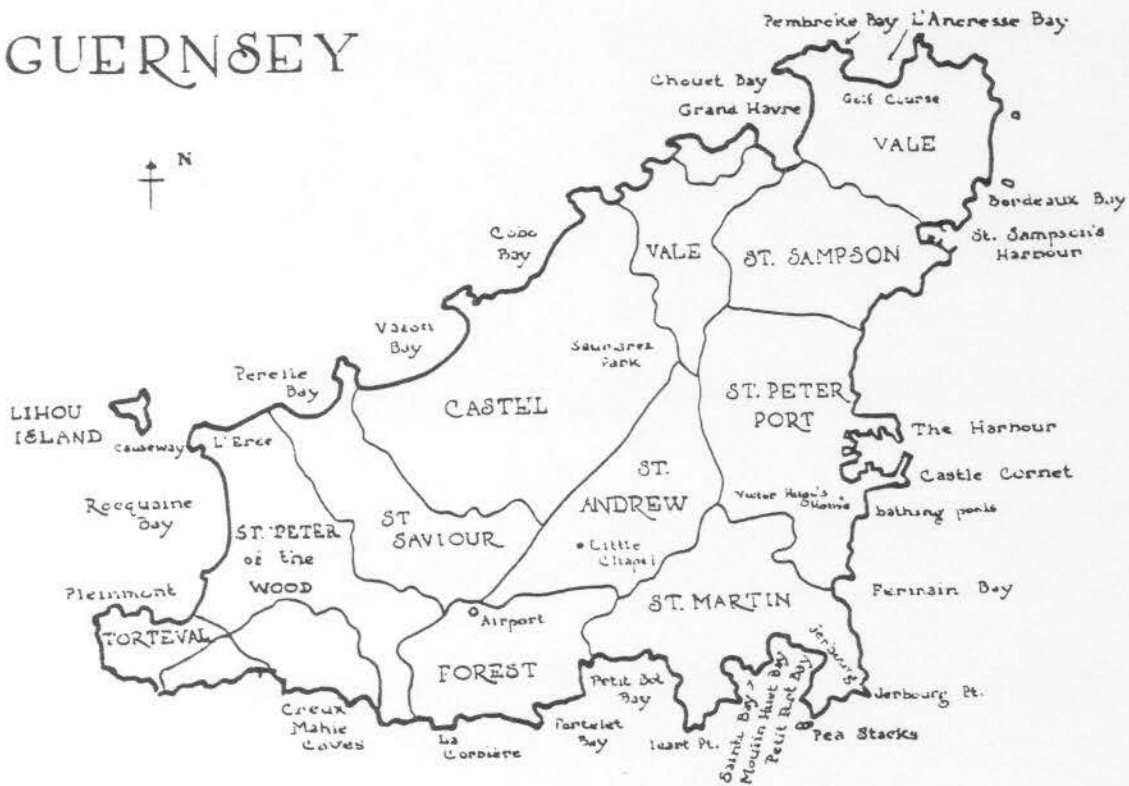

La Société Gaspésienne
des Îles Anglo-Normandes

Gaspesian Channel Islands Society

Undoubtedly, George Le Feuvre would welcome the creation of the Gaspesian Channel Islands Society. Already this young, active Society has done much to bring the important role of Channel Islanders to public attention as a vital factor in the Gaspesian heritage. Through exchange visits between Gaspesians and Channel Islanders the Society seeks to recall and promote family links. It is hoped that the following listing of family names will make a contribution to a growing awareness of the Channel Islanders.
